Sara Penn practices out of the firm's Everett office, where she assists clients in the areas of divorce, child custody, child support, legal separation, and parenting plan modifications.

Sara was drawn to family law because through her strong advocacy skills, she can make a meaningful impact in the lives of people facing personal challenges.

"I love helping people through difficult and unknown situations. It's gratifying to be able to make a positive contribution in the lives of others."

Originally from Denver, Sara has lived in many regions of the country with her active-duty military spouse. She serves as a board member with Seattle Stand Down, a nonprofit organization that supports veterans, and runs every Saturday with Wear Blue: Run to Remember, a running community that honors fallen service members. She enjoys exploring different cultures through food, listening to podcasts, and taking her rescue pup to the dog park.

"I personally felt that everyone involved in the case actually cared and enjoyed their job and were fighting for my rights. They definitely felt like family and treated me so."
